The program meets daily from 8:15-11:10 when school is in session. To be eligible, children must be three years of age by October 1 and potty trained. Parents assume responsibility for their child's transportation to and from school. A modest tuition of $2,750 per year is charged.

Only five openings are available for the program, so a drawing will take place at the public Board of Ed meeting on February 23, from those who have completed the pre-enrollment process. The main office is open 8 AM to 4 PM daily. Call Mrs. Palek, ext. 7, if you need to schedule another time. You will need to provide four (4) proofs of residency, present the child's birth certificate and provide immunization history for enrollment.

Swing Made in Italy: The Story of Alberto Rabagliati submitted by Carolyn Masone

“The music of Alberto Rabagliati helped Italians dream at a very difficult time,” stated Professor Stefano Albertini, Director of NYU’s Casa Italiana Zerrilli-Marimo, at a recent event. Born in Milan in 1906, Rabagliati’s early career opportunity was tied to the death of Rudolph Valentino. Valentino’s untimely passing in 1926 created what has been described as mass hysteria in his female fans. Hollywood wanted to capitalize on Valentino’s immense success and sponsored a worldwide lookalike contest with the promise of roles in Hollywood films for the winter.

Rabagliati won the contest over 2 million other men and found himself on a ship crossing the Atlantic. Upon reaching Hollywood, it seemed his benefactors had forgotten their promises of film roles and his acting career stalled before it began. However, he learned to enjoy the many gifts of America (including women) and danced to the ubiquitous swing and jazz music emanating from radios and nightclubs.

When the money ran out Rabagliati returned to Italy, where he launched his singing career. In 1934 he joined the Cuban band, Lecuona Cuban Boys, then touring Italy. In 1939 he auditioned for the state-controlled Italian radio station, EIAR, and became the vocalist for its orchestra. His voice was an instant success and soon had his own show, Canta Rabagliati (Rabagliati Sings), was causing a sensation. His hits included Maria La O, Ma l’Amore No, Mattinata Fiorentina, Ba-Ba-Baciami Piccina, Silenzioso Slow and Bambina Innamorata.

All of this is even more amazing when we remember that at the time, Mussolini had banned all foreign influences from Italy, including music. Swing and jazz were distinctly American art forms. However, Rabagliati’s popularity was so overreaching that he was allowed to flout the ban and Il Duce even used one of his recordings as a campaign anthem.

His signature style was Swing Made in Italy and he based it on the American swing and jazz singers that he heard during his time abroad. Rabagliati toured Italy with a 100 piece orchestra in 1941 and started a trend of rhythmic symphony concerts. Crowned the King of Swing, Rabagliati’s joyous music was a desperately needed counterpoint to the devastation and uncertainty of the war going on all around him.

With this much popularity, the Italian film industry wasn’t far behind. Beginning in 1940, his appeal translated easily to the screen and his film career spanned over 25 years. One of his most iconic roles was 1943’s La Vita E’ Bella with Anna Magnani. He played a young count who considers suicide when he loses his fortune. His friend, a doctor, convinces him to submit to a serum injection that will kill him in 10 days, but could save many lives. The doctor tells him, “You’ve wasted your life, don’t waste your death, too.” In the ensuing 10 days, the now destitute count becomes a farmer and falls in love. He returns to the doctor insisting that he is no longer seeking death and wants to live. The doctor assures him that the serum he administered was harmless, and that he “only wanted to give an injection of life. Life is beautiful; go live it!”

This story touched the deep suffering of many Italians of the time. It offered a way to move through the starvation, torture and death that was everywhere. It prompted the newspaper, Corriere Della Sera, to observe that Rabagliati “reminded Italians how beautiful life was in a time of war.”

And anyone who can do that deserves to be remembered.

The Riverdale Fire Department is looking to boost its roster with residents or workers in town who can respond to fires and other emergencies. Finding and holding on to new members, especially during the day, has long been a problem for volunteer fire departments.

Riverdale Fire Department has a Junior Fire Department and is currently looking for young adults between the ages of 16 and 18 to join. Chief Dan Sturm was one of the town's first junior firefighters and the training and discipline has carried him through more than 30 years of fire fighting. Stop by the firehouse any Monday night at 7:00 PM or call 973-831-1584.

The Pompton Lakes-Riverdale First Aid Squad responds to almost 1200 calls per year. With over 30 active members, the squad is available 24/7, 365 days per year. Most members are certified as EMT, which requires 120 hours of classroom and hands on training. Ongoing training is then required to maintain the certification. The remaining members are trained as Drivers, who primarily drive the ambulance and assist with patient care and retrieving equipment.

If you are interested in joining, all training will be provided free of charge. Feel free to come down to the building at 700 Ramapo Road in Pompton Lakes any weeknight between 7 and 10. Hope to see you soon!

Why We Say...

Bouched up (make a shamble of). Sir Thomas Bouch designed a bridge that was built at the Tay estuary at Dundee in Scotland. It was supposed to be the greatest structure built in Victorian England. The building of the Tay Rail Bridge culminated in him being knighted. It was nearly 2 miles long, consisting of 85 spans and at the time (1879) was the longest bridge in the world. One stormy night, only 19 months after the bridge was declared safe by the Board of Trade and opened to traffic, in the summer of 1878, the wind caused some of its spans to collapse. A train and 6 carriages and 75 souls were lost that night ranking it as the worst accident caused by structural failure in the history of England. Sir Thomas Bouch died only 10 months after the failure.

Crossing the Rubicon (point of no return). The actual Rubicon is a river in northern Italy that flows into the Adriatic Sea. The river is renowned because Julius Caesar prompted a three year civil war when he crossed this river in 49 B.C. to march against Pompey. Julius knew that "crossing the Rubicon" with his army would be considered an act of aggression. Once he crossed the river, there was no turning back.

Wisdom of our Fathers

Words of Wisdom given us by our Founding Fathers. Words our government should follow today. Enjoy. Ponder.

"The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and indefinite."

James Madison [Father of the Constitution], The Federalist Papers

"Government is not reason; it is not eloquent; it is force. Like fire, it is a dangerous servant and a fearful master."

George Washington

"Remember democracy never lasts long. It soon wastes, exhausts, and murders itself. There never was a democracy yet that did not commit suicide."

John Adams, letter to John Taylor, April 15, 1814

A lady asked Dr. Benjamin Franklin, "Well, Doctor, what have we got a republic or a monarchy?" "A republic," replied the Doctor, "if you can keep it."

"The Constitution is not an instrument for the government to restrain the people, it is an instrument for the people to restrain the government - lest it come to dominate our lives and interests."

Patrick Henry

CERT Excited over the Upcoming Year

The Riverdale CERT (Citizens Emergency Response Team) members will meet on Thursday, February 17 at the Riverdale Pistol Range to plan their initiatives for 2011. The team will structure their recruitment program to increase participation by residents in several layers of involvement in emergency management.

At least 4 CERT Training Sessions will be scheduled throughout the year, as well as several events for Riverdale residents. The CERT initiatives will be focused on safety in and around the house, and will train residents to assist their family and neighbors in the event of an emergency. The CERT team also serves as an adjunct to the Fire Department, Police Department, the First Aid Squad and other trained emergency personnel to help manage emergency situation.

Riverdale residents are encouraged to attend the February 17 meeting to learn more about the CERT purpose and training requirements, and to offer suggestions on training and public events they would like to see offered in CERT programs.

For more information on the Riverdale CERT program, contact Mayor William Budesheim at mayor@riverdaleNJ.gov

MCURGENT Riverdale has joined with Morris County in developing a shared emergency information network that will be used by the county and the borough to quickly disseminate information to the public in the event of an emergency. The network is called MCURgent, which will get the word out through Twitter and Facebook and Text Messaging on your cell phone. While Facebook requires an account, Twitter is a social network that provides free access. For those who prefer text messages, Twitter's new "Fast Follow" sends tweets directly to a phone without requiring a subscription. Check out the borough's website, www.RiverdaleNJ.gov and on Facebook at Riverdale NJ Government.

We're Cut From a Different Cloth Than Other Clothing Bin Companies

CARECYCLE is a respected family owned company that has been in the recycled clothing business for over 40 years. We are fully insured, and our pledge of pride guarantees your satisfaction with our programs.

Textile and clothing recycling provides numerous environmental and economic benefits for our planet. Not only does it prevent post-consumer textile waste from entering the waste stream (the total flow of solid waste from homes, businesses, institutions, and manufacturing plants that are recycled, burned, or disposed of in landfills, or segments thereof such as the "residential waste stream" or the "recyclable waste stream"), recycling efforts do not create any new hazardous waste or harmful by-products. Clothing recycling is one of the most efficient recycling industries. Nearly 100% of used textiles are recyclable.

We accept clean, gently worn clothing, used clean clothing, including shoes and sneakers to support sustainable living and support the environment. We do not accept any household items.

Natural Health

The belief that the body is fully capable of ridding itself of any and all disease. Practitioners and followers of Alternative health apply this belief by increasing the health of the body. And God said, Behold I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat. Genesis 1:29

FENUGREEK as one of the oldest known medicinal herbs, was used by Hypocrites. It's origin is believed to be in the Mediterranean, but has also been reported as having been used in Asia. Fenugreek is currently being used to treat diabetes in the Middle East. Experimental data indicates that extracts of Fenugreek seeds lower blood sugar levels, thus regulating insulin production. Fenugreek has been shown to soften and dissolve hardened masses of accumulated mucus. As a tea, it is a must for those who use, or have used, large quantities of milk, cheese and butter, as they cause large quantities of mucus waste to accumulate in the system that curtail the vital life-promoting processes, to include healthy lung action, free flowing blood circulation and proper lymphatic drainage. It is known to expel certain (accumulated uric acid) toxic waste by way of the lymphatic system. It loosens and expels mucus and phlegm accumulated in the bronchial tubes, soothes mucous membranes in the lungs and gastrointestinal tract and has also been used to treat lung infections.

Fenugreek :

- Its seeds are used internally for treating an inflamed gastrointestinal system.
- Due to its containing up to 30% mucilage, its poultices are used beneficially on abscesses, boils, wounds inflammations and other skin problems because of its drawing power.
- Has been used in place of cod liver oil in treating scrofula, rickets, anemia and other disabilities following infectious diseases.
- Is a strong stimulator of milk production in mothers and has been said to stimulate development of the breasts.
- Can be used as a gargle for sore throats. It also thins mucus.
- Contains lecithin which helps to dissolve cholesterol and fatty substances.
- As part of a fiber drink or tonic, Fenugreek seeds expel toxic waste and mucus through the elimination system.
- Some have used Fenugreek with lemon juice and honey to soothe and nourish the body and to reduce fevers.

The most High hath created medicines out of the earth, and a wise man will not abhor them. ... The virtue of these things is come to the knowledge of men, and the most High hath given knowledge to men, that he may be honored in his wonders. By these he shall cure and shall allay their pains, and of these the apothecary shall make sweet confections, and shall make up ointments of health, and of his works there shall be no end. (Eccles 38:5-7).

PEEPHOLE DRIVING. As snow and temperatures start to fall, it's "peephole driving" season in the USA. Many Americans have done it. Gone outside to an ice-covered vehicle on a cold winter's morning, chipped just enough ice off the windshield to see through and drive away. Peephole driving dramatically reduces a driver's field of vision, and it increases the likelihood that snow and ice can become dislodged and hit another vehicle or a pedestrian. On October 19 a new law took effect in NJ and amends various parts of NJSA 39:4-77.1 that requires drivers of ALL motor vehicles to make all reasonable efforts to remove accumulated snow and ice from exposed surfaces of motor vehicles prior to their operation.

Cal's Corner

By Cal Deal

My next job was as a newspaper boy for Trends. My route was along Newark-Pompton Turnpike, from Newberry Place to Hamburg Turnpike, and all of the streets on the west side, plus Hamburg Turnpike west to the railroad tracks. The paper would come out on Thursday and Sunday, and I would get up early to deliver them. It was quite a job, lugging 60 heavy Sunday papers all that way on wintry mornings. Sometimes my Dad would drive me around when the weather was really bad.

It was that job that got me into the news business, though. I remember one day when a shopping center in Pompton Plains burned down. It happened on a Saturday, and Trends had a big front-page story and headline the next day. I was quite proud that my little paper was first with the story, and I made sure I placed each and every one of those papers on the front stoop so the headline could be seen from a distance. I was getting the news bug.

One morning I went out to get my bundle of papers and the carrier boy newsletter was stuck on the top of it. I was shocked to see my name on the cover as "Carrier Boy of the Month." Later they made me "Carrier Boy of the Year" and put my picture on calendars that went all over North Jersey.
