

BY AND LARGE

by Elaine Peacock

SMILING PUMPKINS

My favorite time of the year is finally here October. This is the time of the year for smiling pumpkins, beautiful leaves of all colors, crispy air, visits to local farms, hayrides and of course spooky thrills. One thing that I look forward to each year is The Tunnel of Terror at Fairfield Gardens if you have never been there put it on your to do list you'll be glad you did. This is the time of the year that God does his best work with all those reds, oranges, yellows and browns. The air is cool just right for long walks shuffling through the leaves under beautiful blue skies. So put on your favorite sweater or sweatshirt and take some time to enjoy God's handiwork. While you're at it check out some of the Halloween stores that have popped up you just may find your perfect costume for trick or treating. Get out there and enjoy!

